We are authorized to announce W Court Clerk subject to the action of the Republican party.

Somebody has figured out that the average boy who is dependent upon his parents for a livelihood until he reaches the age of twentyone years costs them four thous and dollars. On this basis of calculation a brood, for instance, of six boys would represent an outlay of wenty-four !housand dollars by :-

time they get away from the home roost. The question arises does it pay to raise boys and are there no other crops that would prove more profitable? If a boy turns out to be a cigarette fiend with a breath like a turkey buzzard and a laugh that would make the untutored donkey feel perfectly at home in his society and with an untrammel ed aud unconquerable desire t avoid work, it is safe to say that his parents might have invested their four thousand dollars at a much better advantage. But if the boy grows up to manhood with the lesson well learned that wealth and success grow only on bushes water ed by the sweat of one's brow, the parents need not begrudge what ever they have spent on him, for he will be a source of increasing pride and joy to their hearts, and when they grow old and their hands tremble and their legs wabble and their step is slow and faltering they have two strong arms to learn upon and help them over all the rough places that lie in their twi light path.

This voters of Kentucky will be called upon at the coming Novem ber election to say by their votes, whether or not the Constitution shall be so amended as to prohibit those who do not hold a tax receipt for taxes due the same year in which the election comes, shall not be permitted to vote. This law should have long since been on our statute books, for sound, able bod ied men, who will willfully and for ck of pride; who are so lost to honor as to allow their names to go upon the list of delinquents should not be allowed to have a voice in saving who the officers and chief executives shall be. One of the highest and loftiest duties of a good citizen is to pay his tax for the support of his county and state and he who fails to do this is not worthy of being called a citizen and should be disfranchised from exercising the 5th of next month don't fail to vote in the little square opposite

LAND, STOCK AND CROP

W. L. Richards and E. S. Albright, Tuesday received from Cnicago a car of 134 sheep, which have been let out to different parties. It has long since been recognized that this county is especially adapted to sheep raising, but no very great attention has ever been turned in this direction in the past. We certainly hope the next few years will find our farmers taking advantages of the conditions and circumstances which will bring the best results, and there is no question but that in Rockcastle a few hundred dollar: invested in sheep, will pay a better dividend, in proportion to the imount invested than any other undertaking.

The raising of mule colts is get ing to be a lucrative thing for our farmers. A few years ago the prices of common mule colts ranged $25 to $35 and took a real good one to bring $75. Now the sales at $100 are so frequent as to excite no comment and still higher prices are by no means infrequent. The general prosperity of this country has much to do with this, and the speial demand for mules has more; out the fact remains that the mule bred now a days are intrinsically worth more. Several well knows dealers remarked Court day that the display of weanling niules was he finest they had ever seen con sidering the number. The season with plenty of grass had something to do with it as nearly all of them were in good condition. But the credit for it is mostly due to the superior quality of the jacks used for sires. With the prices of mules that now exist, farmers can afford to pay a few dollars more and breed o good jacks and they find it pays by adding to the sale value of the colt .- Winchester Democrat.

My name is George Johnson, and I have a store close to Logan Thompson.

I built it this year on the old Carpenter lot.

It has a flat floor and slanting top;

It has shelves and counters to hold all kinds of goods.

Its walls are of concrete and the rest is mostly wood. I built this house for the rich, the high, the low and the poor. And if you ever visit it you will do your trading here for ever more.

I am in it and there to stay, until old Grbriel sounds his whistle on Judgment day.

Others might come, and others may go, but with me I'll say for ever no.

My goods are new, just from the factories you see, as o'er the country you roam

And the prices are so low you are bound to take some of them home.

whether she resides in Louisville or a town of much smaller size.

The Prizes.

The Prizes offered by The Herald are the most liberal ever given away by any newspaper in the South. The capital prize of the $10,000 contest is $1,500 in cash. This large amount of money will be given to the woman who secures the largest number of votes in the entire contest, regardless of district limitations. As the contest runs but nine weeks, the winner of this prize will earn $166.66 per week for nine weeks.

Besides the capital prize there are two other grand prizes, consisting of two 1907 model automobiles. One of these machines is a brand new Aerocar, purchased direct from the factory for the express purpose of awarding it as a prize in The Herald's contest. The other automobile is a runabout model, valued at $650, brand new, with every modern improvement, backed by the manufacturers and the local agent. One of these machines will be awarded to a candidate in Louisvill, the other to a candidate residing in Kentucky or Indiana, outside of Louisville. The candidate—who secures the largest number of votes of the two automobile winners will be given choice of the machines.

The contest is divided into twenty-five

DRIVEN AWAY THE NEW WAY TO BY TAXATION TAX MORTGAGES

Growth in Favor of the Registra- Very Large Capital Withdrawn From Kentucky.

Several States Now Tax at Five Dollars a Thousand When Lodged For Record-Having Good Effect.

has rolled around to estimate the amount of tax that has been collected in Kentucky by the state and by counties on real estate lien notes and mortgage notes. This subject of mortgage taxation is one that Kentucky should very carefully consider. In most states it has been recognized that to tax mortgages is to impose ing of money upon real estate no new perty has been created, but only same property twice. It has been onsidered, however, that the state is entitled to some revenue from this source, and other states have solved the problem by levying a registration tax upon mortgages. Under this system, when a mortgage is filed for record it pays a tax of five dollars on each thousand dollars of the amount secured by the mortgage. No subsequent tax is imposed and the entire amount of the tax collected goes into the state treasury.

Where this system has been tried, the result has been a considerable increase in the revenue from taxation of mortgages. The system which we are trying in Kentucky, by which the county clerk is required to make a correct return to the assessor of all mortgages, gives very little chance for any mortgages to escape taxation, so that to adopt in Kentucky the system of a registration tax on mortgages would not be productive of more revenue, and might possibly be productive of less; but it is questionable whether the slight additional revenue derived from these mortgages makes up for the injustice done to the corrowers of money. It is not conceivable that a man will lend money at 5 or 6 per ceni, and then pay from 21/2 to 3 per cent in the way of tax, and yet it would amount to this in very many of our Kentucky cities and towns. Rather than do so, since he can not now, under the law, avoid disclosing his possession of the mortgage, the lender will simply retire the money lending market. These restrictions curtail the amount of money that will be loaned on mortgages and result in a hardship to borrowers It should be remembered, also, that the borrowers affected in this case are of the very best classfarmers who need to raise money on their farms; men of smail means who desire to borrow money to build homes, as well as men who piedge real estate to aid them in exionsive outiding or industrial operations. The possibility of borrowing the money they need from private sources has always been of great advantage to people of these classes, especially in small towns and cities where there are not so many trust companies making loans The lender might stand the burden of the tax if he were ailowed to add that amount to his rate of interest, but he is headed off in that direction by the usury laws. In many cases he takes chances on this point and by various devices will contrive to collect from the borrower some extra premium by way of offset to the tax he must pay on the mort gage In this way the barden falls direct on the borrower and must inate on mortgage loans. That a tax on mortgages does so increase the interest rate on mortgage loans has been clearly proved by the experience of New York.

It is not to be supposed that there will be any opposition to the tax on mortgages on the part of corporations which have money to lend, since, by law banks and trust companies are not specifically taxed on their morigage loans. But any banker dislikes to see anything done that restricts the amount of available capital in the state, for such restriction of available capital means restriction of business, restriction of all forms of progress that make the state more prosperous. Experience has, up to this time, demonstrated that the only beneficiarles of the attempt to rigidly tax mortgages are the foreign insurance companies, which come into the state and lend their money and. being resident in other states, do not.

have to pay a tax on their mortgages. The same registration tax where it has been adopted is applied to the mortgages filed by railroad and other corporations This is proving a more effective way of taxing bonds than to take the chance of individual holderbeing willing to give them in for taxtion which they generally fail to do. n vi w of the fact that the bonds rately pay more than 5 to 10 per cent. and three fift's to three fourths of this would have to be given up to the tax gatherer if the bonds are listed with the assessor. And men will not willingly sui mit to confiscation. The subject of taxing credits is one of the most difficult in the realm of taxation, and it is a field where mistakes are most costly, because it is the taxation of this form of property that drives capital from the community, and to drive capital from the community means the curtailment of ail the enterprises that build up the community and add to its population and to the value of its real estate.

Ington Points Out a Dangerous Result of Our Tax

The manner in which the tax system of Kentucky may seriously affect its business interests was recently given a very striking demonstration in Lexington. The estate of Mrs. Ciara Bell Walsh, amounting to about $750,000, had been for many 'years managed by the Security Trust company of Lexington, as trustee. A petition was filed recently in the Fayette circuit court, asking the court to terminate the trusteeship, so that Mrs. Walsh might put her property in the hands of a trust company in St. Louis. The Security Trust company, which had been acting as trustee, did not oppose this suit, it being distinctly stated in the petition of Mrs. Walsh that the services of the trust company had been in every way satisfactory but that the taxes imposed upon her property were too burdensome.

The peculiar feature of the case lies in the fact that Mrs. Walsh, herself, resides in St. Louis and, therefore, claims that her personal property should not be taxed at Lexington in the hands of her trustee. The court of appeals having held otherwise, and Mrs. Waish, not feeling justified in paying a tax rate of $2.70 on the stocks, bonds and other investments in the hands of the Kentucky trustee, since she could not derive any possible good from the payment of this lax, decided to remove the property to the state of her residence.

A considerable part of the estate was invested in local securities-the bonds of local corporations and real estate mortgages. This will mean that the money will gradually be withdrawn from investment in these local securities and reinvested by the St. Louis trustee in other securities, thus constituting a loss of that much money to enterprises in and around Lexington and Fayette county. It means just that much greater scarcity of needed capital. The Lexington Herald has been, with great energy and skill, showing the result of this sort of taxatlon on the business interests of the state. It points out, among other things, the inconsistency in the decisions of our courts, which hold that a man who lives in one Kentucky county and has intangible personal property, such as stocks, bonds, or money, in the hands of a trustee in another county of Kentucky, must pay the tax in the country of his residence and not in the country where the frustee resides; but if the owner of the property moves entirely out of the state, then he must pay a tax in the county where the trusted resides, as well as pay the tax in the state where he takes up his new residence, thus constituting double tax

Consumed With Taxation.

In her potition asking for the change in trusteeship Mrs. Walsh Bell Walsh be not entitled to a discharge of the trustee, that there be a change in the person of said trustee, and if it can be done that the funds and property in trust be transferred to a trustee duly qualified under and resident in the state of Missouri, where they have their home. Plaintiffs state that evitably tend to increase the interest the reasons why a change of trustee is desired do not in any manner relate to the conduct or fidelity of said trustee, but are on account of the heavy burdens of taxation imposed on said estate by reason of the residence of the trustee in a state and city different from the home of the beneficiary."

Court of Appeals Decision. The Herald adds the following fact as to the case. "Under this decision of the court, Mrs. Walsh's personal property in the hands of the Security Trust company would be liable for city, state and county taxes here; and realizing that she, a non-resident of the state, could derive no possible benefit from taxes paid to the city on her personal . property, Mrs. Walsh takes this means of getting possession of her property. The removal of the estate to another state is a powerful argument against the wisdom of the system of taxation in force in aug.-5. Kentucky; for though the investments made by the trustee in local securities are so safe and highly regarded as to be retained, yet when a reinvestment is made it is likely that a large portion of the funds will be invested elsewhere, thus depriving this community and state of so much badly needed capital for its progress and development.

Poverty or Perjury. "A prominent attorney of this city. in discussing before the Taxation Committee of the Kentucky senate in 1905 the tax system of our state, denounced our personal property tax as necessarily leading either to poverty or perjury. We do not know whether any statistics on the subject are available, but we think it a safe guess that at least three-fourths of all the intangible personal property, such as bonds, notes, and cash, which is assessed for taxation in Kentucky, is in the hands of fiduciaries. Is it a fair to collections. and maniy thing to place upon those least able to bear it nearly all the burden of such a tax?"

It is a noticeable fact, and one which any doctor will verify that people who suffer most often from disease are the ones who have the most difficulty in keeping their bowels open. Regular bowel action is half the battle of health. People who have a tendency to constipation must of necessity use something to help nature along. This should not be a violent aid like salts or purgative waters, cathartic pills or powders, but a syrup liquid that will oil the intestines and membranes that it comes in contact with. Children, women and weak people generally should never be given a strong physic, as it weakens the system. And it is futile for the strongest person because the relief is simply for that day, and then the reaction sets in and you are worse off than before. What is needed is a prompt but gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. People have been taking it for sixteen years and it is being better liked by more people every year. The reason is that it fills a want. It is unlike anything else. Results are so sure in constipation, dyspepsia.
